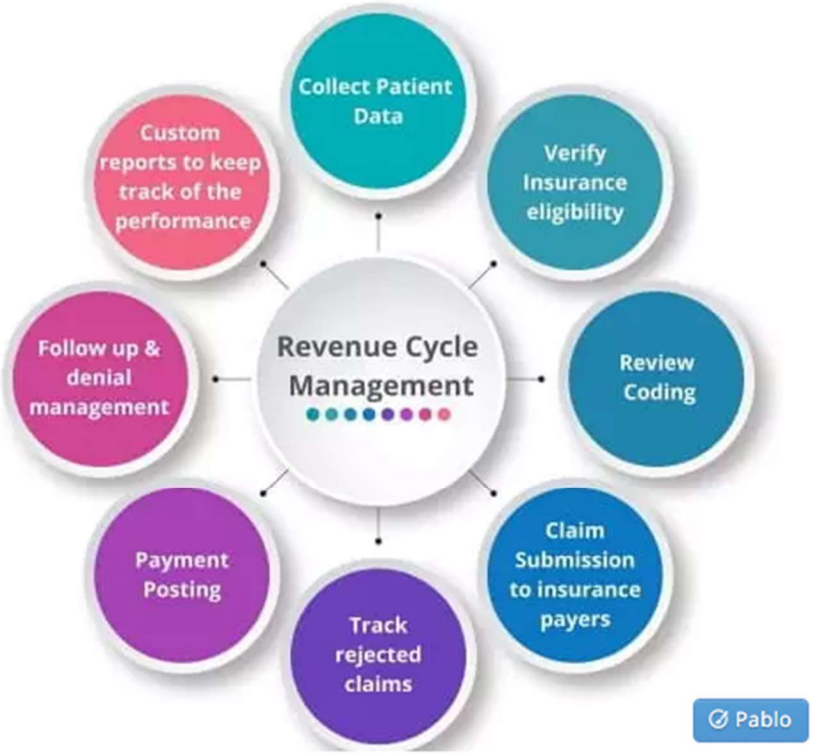
Revenue Cycle Management is the most crucial foundation of a successful healthcare organization. Without an efficient billing department, highly efficient practices often scramble to sustain as they could lose out on thousands of dollars in payer reimbursement and patient payments. Thus, understanding and executing excellent RCM is essential for the success of the organization.

Revenue Cycle Management is a series of steps completed by billing specialists to ensure that medical professionals are reimbursed for their services. These steps include Registration, the establishment of financial responsibility for the visit, patient check-in and check-out, checking for coding and billing compliance, preparing and transmitting claims, monitoring payer adjudication, generating patient statements or bills, and assigning patient payments and arranging collections.



Now as a NIF Billing Solutions LLC partner it is our responsibility to encompass the entire revenue cycle from the time of appointment till the time the patient's bill is paid in full. The detail of the services is given below.

PATIENT REGISTRATION:

The first step in revenue cycle management is registration wherein the patient's insurance and demographic are generally gathered when they schedule an appointment. The next step serves as validation and we will verify the below things for a provider as these things play an important role in the initial scrubbing of a claim before the patient's check-in so that the front office person can collect the patient's responsibility at the time of visit.

- Patient's Name
- Date of Birth
- Gender
- Effective Date
- PCP's Name
- Patient Responsibility (Copay, Deductible & Co-Insurance)
- Pre-Authorization if it is required for any service
- OON Benefits

CLAIMS GENERATION & SUBMISSION

This step is crucial in making sure that throughout the revenue cycle, the provider will get fully reimbursed by the payers. When we will receive a report called a "superbill" or "Encounter" compiled from all the information including provider and clinician information, the patient's demographic information and medical history, information on the procedures and services performed, and the applicable diagnosis and procedure codes from the provider we will generate a claim from the "superbill" or "Encounter", start our scrubbing process and it includes the below mentioned things.

- Compliance (We will ensure the bill meets the standards of billing compliance. i.e Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (HIPAA) and the Office of the Inspector General (OIG)
- Medical Review (We will verify the medical records as the purpose of this review is to ensure the proper coding of diagnoses and procedures. It confirms the accuracy and maximizes reimbursement).
- Pricing (We will verify the cost of the procedures as they are billing according to the provider's contract with the insurance).

- Pointer Setting ( We will verify the pointer setting as each procedure paired with a diagnosis code (an ICD code) demonstrates the medical necessity. Also, the POS where services are performed and the units of services).
- Provider's Information (We will verify the provider's information including the NPI numbers, facility, and billing address).
- Pre-Authorization (We will verify the authorization if it is required for the service present in the claim).
- Patient's Eligibility (We will verify the patient's eligibility one more time here as some of the patients are Walk-in for the providers and their eligibility is missed at the time of appointment).

We billed the claim to insurance after the verification of the above factors in the claim.

CLEARING HOUSE FOLLOW-UP

A healthcare clearinghouse is essentially the middleman between the healthcare providers and the insurance payers. The clearinghouse does the Adjudication process by which it evaluates medical claims and determines whether they are valid and compliant. During this process, the claim may be accepted or rejected. An accepted claim is the one that has been transferred to the payer for further processing and a rejected claim is one that has errors that must be corrected and the claim resubmitted.

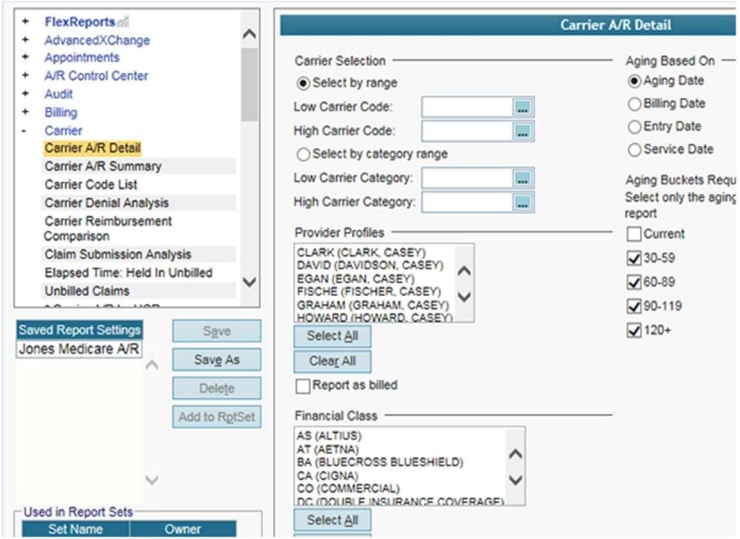
As a billing company, we will do the follow-up of batch submission on the clearinghouse. If it missing on the portal then we will resubmit the batch and if it is on file on the clearing then we will look at those claims which have been rejected by the clearinghouse so that we can resubmit after correction.

REMITTANCE PROCESSING

In this step, we will post the payment received from the insurance payers. and will analyze those payers where there was an error causing the payment to be delayed. Moreover, we will take appropriate actions for a smooth payment cycle by resubmission of denied claims and eliminating errors in payment delay.

INSURANCE FOLLOW-UP

In this step, we will follow up on the claims which are showing as outstanding in the system. We will follow up on the claims in reverse order starting from 120^{+} and then moving to 90^{+}, $60^{+,}$ and 30^{+}.



It improves the practice of health. Furthermore, we will follow up on those insurance claims which require a call.

PATIENT COLLECTIONS

This step involves patient account monitoring that has outstanding balances. We will send the billing statements to the patients for their outstanding charges once the claims have been processed. The statement will include a detailed list of the procedures and services provided, their costs, the amount paid by insurance, and the amount due from the patient.

STATEMENT FOLLOW-UP

The last step is to make sure bills are paid. We will follow up with patients whose bills are delinquent through calls.

PRACTICE PERFORMANCE

For practice performance evaluation, we will do the below measures by using statistical & Financial Analysis and share the reports with you.

- Payment Analysis to figure out the payers for which we are not receiving payment timely.
- Payment Analysis to figure out the payers for which we are receiving underpayments according to the provider's contract.
- PC Ratio Analysis for average payment analysis.
- Monthly review of a Credientialing sheet so that we can aware of the provider about the renewal of an insurance contract.
- Missing Reporting Codes.
